

What are trifles-who may guess

Scattered ears on life's broad field

For a wise one's gleaning. Nought but hath its work on earth,

Franght with p in or pleasure, Link infuscure's mystic chain,

Though of Enicst measure. But a triffe seems a word

All unkindly spoken, Yet the life vap wall-th low For a good string broken. But a trule mems the smile

On a mind thee beaming.

Just a look my saleys thoughts
Full of proof 00 the soul
Just a look will patentment;
With a glad & children fair,
Little prayers of Little prayers of beauty of

With a childrike feeing.

To the sunny morn of life,

With a bright to morrow

On a young brow parted,

With a fount of bitterest tears

For the broken hearted.

Twas a single rain drop fell

Lo a flower is norsting;

And an acors light y flung

In a pathway drosty, a

DECISIONS OF THE BICH COURS OCTOBER TERM, 1869.

SESSECULAR RESERVOIS FOR THE EASTERN CLASSES. Charles H. Fox .) Larkin Smith. This action was brought upon a speci contract which is thus stated in the claration, that in April 1857, the plain paid into the hands of the defendant or thousand dollars for which the defendant gave his receipt in these words: "R ceived April 29th, 1857, from Lacks Smith one thousand dollars to be invited in the building of a steam boat for the Pearl river trade." (signed) Charles II Fox, and the declaration avers, that amboat was to be built by the said Fox and one D. G. Hill, and it was agreed by the same on energy in the head of the same of the sam during the early part of the winter 1857-8, and that said boat was not but and brought into the Pearl river trade a agreed, nor was the money invested in the suilding of the steam boat as agreed, an that the defendant has failed and refusto refund the money to plaintiff. There is also a count in the declaration for mosey had and received.

The defendant pleaded first the gene al issue, and 2d a special plea which we temurred to and the demurrer sustained and upon leave to plead over, another ple was filed, which is in substance as fo lows, that immediately after the reception of the money and the execution of the receipt mentioned in the first count i the declaration, the defendant in purs ance of the object for which he receive the money as stated in the receipt and i order to carry out the purpose therein ex pressed, did with the knowledge and con ent of the plaintiff, hand the said mone to D. G. Hill (who was to superintend the construction of the steam boat mentions in said receipt, as the plaintiff well kneand approved of) the said money to ! used by said Hillfor the plaintiff a benefi in and about the building of the said boat, since which time, the detendant ha never had or received any part of sat sum of money. To this plea, the plain tiff likewise demurred, and the demurwas sustained, and this, together with the judgment on the demurrer to the origin: econd plea, is the first error assigned. As the amended plea contains all tha set up in the original plea, it is only no cessary in the view we take of these plea Occupandence of the New York Times.

o consider the demuerrr to the amend-The grounds of demurrer are that the pleaseeks to vary the written contracand the defence set up is contradictory to the acknowledgment contained in the receipt, and that the plea is not a suffl cientansver to the declaration.

The two first grounds are not well to ken. The declaration alleges that the defendant received the money to be in vested in the building of a steam boat, a shown by his receipt, and that the boa Cabinet. If you will refer to your file of the Morning Herald of yesterday, you was to be built by the defendant and Hall and that the defendant agreed when ! shtained the money from the plaintil position very plainly stated in the second leading article. In that article it is stated that the boat was to be completed and twonght into the Pearl river trade in the fall of 1857. It is manifest, that so far a the obligation of the defendant to invethe money in the building of the stead boat was concerned, it would have been a spfficient discharge of that obligation i party who . constructio at Halifax, with inclosures to the British | bim for th

Taking the statements of the plea as true the plaintiff might have been willing the he money should be placed in the hand of Hill, to be used about building the boat, and yet that would not affect the re--posibility of the defendant to see the he boat was built and completed, accord ng to the statement of that material pa f the contract in the declaration. On this ground the demutrers were propery sustained.

After the judgment upon the demurers the case was tried on the general is ue, and a verdict returned for the plain off. The defendant made a motion for new trial on various grounds which was overruled, and exception taken thereto, granting the instructions asked by the plaintiff, the refusal of those of the deendant, and the overruling of the motion for a new trial, as the verdict was contrary to the evidence. tic, Newton county, Mosissippi, to

The black wave of Abolition ism might overwhelm the country, yet, if Cushing way to be believed, he would be the last man to yield to the flood, and turn his back upon the South.
